HOUSE WARMING OF THE LOCAL Y. W. C. A. WILL BE AUSPICIOUS EVENT

Hours Will Be From 3 Until 5 o'clock Friday Afternoon and From 7 Until 10 in the Evening

ONE OF THE LEADING SOCIAL FUNCTIONS OF SEASON

Different Committees are Working Hard to Make the Affair a Success in Every Particular—Gymnasium Being Installed But Will Not Be Completed Before Next Week.

Preparations are being made for the entertainment of about three hundred friends and pledged members of the Young Women's Christian Association at the opening and house warming of the organization, to be held in the Robinson building from three until five and from seven until ten o'clock Friday. The building is a very busy place, members of the committee exerting every effort to have the departments in presentable condition for the event, which promises to be one of the leading social functions of the season. Fortunately, there have been no drudges placed on the various committees, and the spirit of proper Christian fellowship, supplemented by the energy which is always created by a personal interest, is rapidly proving effective.

Guests at the Association's quarters will be welcomed during the afternoon by a committee comprising Mrs.
J. S. Herzog, honorary chairman, and the Misses Mary Lemert, Helen Africa, Helen Johnson and Van Horne.
In the evening the courtesies of the organization will be extended by Miss Emma Jones, as chairman of the reception committee, aided by a committee comprising Misses Atkins, Florence Lemert, Ruth Forry, Helen Redmond, Rose Eichhorn, Editha Hall, Grace Russell, Bessie Dawson, Mrs. Dewey, May Kammerer, Emma Kammerer and others. Refreshments will be served to the visitors by Mesdames Fred Black and Ned Wright, and the Misses Louise Norpell and Mabel Jones.

The house committee, headed by Mrs. J. A. Mitchell, is one of the busiest in the entire organization, and under their direction there is little doubt that the initial event in the local association's actual history will be most auspicious. Mrs. Mitchell is being aided by Mesdames Buell, Beggs, Mary Miller, Kibler, Hatch, W. C. Miller and Omar Crane.

The visitors will be given an opportunity to examine the gymnasium apparatus, which is being installed under the direction of Miss Norpell, chairman of the gymnasium committee. All of the apparatus has not yet arrived, due to the inability of the committee to purchase the necessary equipment in this city. Orders have been placed with local dealers, however, for all the necessary outfits, and should be installed early next week, before the opening of the gymnasium classes. In this connection, the committee in charge of purchasing, vigorously denies having resorted to mail order catalogues for their purchases.
Everything necessary has been bought in this city whenever possible, and in other instances, the order has been sent through local dealers.

One of the pleasant features of the house warming will be the fact that Miss Grace Wright, who is to be temporary house secretary for the association, will be present and initiated into her new duties. Miss Wright is contemplating the assuming of Y. W.
C. A. work and her experience in the Newark organization should be of great value in this connection. A woman of very pleasing personality and an amiable disposition, she should readily gain the confidence of the girls with whom she labors, and should receive their co-operation in making her secretarial burdens as light as possible.

"I do hope all the girls will register promptly," said Miss Wright to an Advocate representative this morning.
"The classes are to start very soon and there will be no deduction for those registering late, so nothing can be saved by delaying." Miss Wright also mentioned that an opportunity would be given the members to secure Y. W. C. A. emblems at the housewarming tomorrow evening.

Miss Constance McCorkle, to whose energies much of the credit for the success of the Y. W. C. A. financial campaign must be given, will be present at the house-warming. Miss Mc-Corkle also started the work at Portsmouth, six weeks before coming to Newark, but will be unable to attend their opening event, which unfortunately occurs on the same day as the Newark opening. Portsmouth has a general secretary, however—secured from New York City—and Miss Mc-Corkle will honor the Newark association with her presence, leaving the Portsmouth affairs to the capable direction of the secretary.

It is believed that the gymnasium will be ready for classes next week, Class "A", which is to meet Monday and Thursday from three to half-past four o'clock beginning its work on Monday afternoon. Miss Teeple, physical director of Shephardson College, Denison University, is to have charge.

LOAN SCRIP ADVISED BY BANK LEADER

Washington, Jan. 16.—An organization of twenty geographically located clearing houses, with authority to issue loan certificates convertible on demand into government currency at fifty per cent of their face value, was proposed to the house currency reform committee today as the natural solution of the currency problem, by W. N. Nash, president of the Corn Exchange National Bank of New York, and a former president of the New York Clearing House.

Mr. Nash said the clearing houses contemplated in his plan practically would be the regional banks.

SOME HOPE LEFT FOR HEN-PECKS

Wooster, O., Jan. 16.—Pecked on the hand by a hen, when he tried to take an egg from her nest, blood poison developed and resulted late yesterday in the death of John Martin, an Orrville farmer.

FELL FROM CAR DURING INAUGURAL CEREMONY MONDAY

Fremont, O., Jan. 16.—Dr. H. N.
Donaldson of Sandusky county, representative in the state legislature, is confined to his home here from injuries sustained when he fell from a street car in Columbus during the inauguration Monday.

ARBOR DAY APRIL FOURTH.

Columbus, Jan. 16.—Governor Cox today issued his first proclamation, designating Friday, April 4, as Arbor Day.

CANADA'S DUCHESS IS SERIOUSLY ILL.

A serious recurrence of the illness which prostrated the Duchess of Cornwall when she was in Quebec last May, has made it necessary to remove her to a Montreal hospital for treatment. All social functions at Government House and in official society have been cancelled, and the visit to New York which the Cornwalls had been planning will be postponed indefinitely.

TRUST REPORT DELAYED BY SICK COUNSEL

Washington, Jan. 16.—The house-money trust committee was today again forced to extend the time for the tentative closing of its inquiry.
The committee expected to conclude this week, but Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee, will be unable to attend the sessions after today, until next Thursday, and an adjournment is to be taken over that period.

This will delay the framing of a report by the committee to be presented to the house during the pres-

COURT OF APPEALS HAS DECIDED BY UNANIMOUS VOTE TO COME TO NEWARK

J. M. Swartz, representing the Licking County Bar Association, and W. C. Wells of the Newark Board of Trade, who composed the committee that went to Mansfield Wednesday afternoon to interview the judges of the court of appeals in reference to making Newark one of the four headquarters points for the sessions of the court in the fifteen counties of the Fifth circuit judicial district, returned to Newark Wednesday night with the absolute assurance and pledge of the court that Newark will be one of the four session points of the court.

Leaving Newark at 1.30 Wednesday afternoon on the Baltimore and Ohio, the committee went at once to wait upon the court and found that adjournment had just been reached.
Mr. Swartz made known the business on which he and Mr. Wells had come.

The members of the court addressed some queries to the Newark men as to why the former declaration of the court that it had chosen Newark as one of its four session points had been doubted.

The judges said they had received a letter from the Licking county commissioners asking them to express themselves on the subject and that it had been their intention to write a reply on Wednesday.

"Write it now," was the request of Mr. Swartz, "and we will carry it to Newark."

"You take the message and save me the trouble of writing," said the court, "and tell your commissioners and the Licking County Bar Association that we have chosen Newark by a unanimous vote."

The Newark men had taken a plan of the upper floor of the court house with them and after receiving the assurance of the court that Newark was its choice, they asked the judges to designate the rooms that seemed best suited to their needs. It had been the intention to give over the rooms now occupied by the of-

A SHORT BALLOT IS FAVORED

Joint House and Senate Resolution to be Introduced

FOODS SOLD BY WEIGHT

Instead of Measure Will be Result if Rep. King's Bill Becomes a Law.

Columbus, Jan. 16.—To provide for a constitutional amendment embodying Governor Cox's plan for a short ballot, a joint House and Senate resolution will be introduced in the House this afternoon by Representative Stephen M. Young of Cleveland.

The resolution will be the second important administration bill to be presented to the legislature and will provide that the governor and lieutenant governor be the only executive state officials elected by the people.

The joint resolution will also provide that counties having more than one representative be divided into districts so that the people in a district will have one representative to vote for. It will also provide that senatorial districts be likewise divided.

Strenuous efforts will be made by the administration to secure final passage of the emergency and lobby bill in both houses of the general assembly this afternoon. If the bill is passed today it will go to the governor for his signature immediately and as soon as he signs it will become a law.

Because it is an emergency measure, the bill will require three-fourths vote for its passage. The legislature will probably adjourn late today until Monday, providing the bill is passed in the legislature Wednesday evening.

Representative John R. King of Franklin county, introduced two bills in the legislature Wednesday evening.
Both refer to weights and measures, with which he, as city sealer of weights and measures, has had much experience. The first bill seeks to require sales of all food products to be made by weight instead of measure. It was supposed that such a law had been enacted, but someone got in a provision that measures might be used on agreement. That it has been found, makes it practically impossible to enforce the law. Mr. King's bill would require this agreement to be in writing.

His other bill would authorize the state dairy and food commissioner, as state sealer of weights and measures, to adopt and promulgate such rules and regulations as may be found necessary by him.

Representative Bigelow introduced his bill to annual the street railway franchise in Cincinnati, that was granted under the Roger 50-year franchise bill.

Representative Mueller of Dayton, introduced the bill providing a method for removing delinquent public officials, which Judge Dennis Dwyer of Dayton, has prepared.

GOOD COMMITTEE ASSIGNMENTS FOR LICKING MEMBER

Licking county fared very well in the distribution of committee assignments by Speaker Swain of the Ohio legislature.

Hon. W. D. Fulton, Licking county's representative, was made chairman of the federal relations committee and also made a member of the printing and enrollment committee. The last is one of the most important and the duties required of the members occupy much of their time at the capitol. They are required to inspect every measure after it passes the house and senate, to notice every punctuation mark and to take notes of any change or insertion that may have been made before the bill goes to the governor for his signature, and if such changes are found, then the covernor must be notified.

Mr. Fulton, as chairman of the NEWARK'S REMARKABLE CAMPAIGN.

By Chalmers L. Pancoast.

The membership campaign of the Board of Trade last year was a big advertisement for Newark. It met with the most remarkable results of any similar campaign in America.

No other organization, in a city the size of Newark, within one campaign, developed so many loyal organization workers, and town boosters, eager to silence the knocker.

Which means that Newark men do believe in Newark and only need to be shown the right avenues through which to express, in an effective way, their loyalty and their earnest purpose to uphold the city.

The work of building up this organization must not stop. Put your shoulder to the wheel.

federal relations committee will,
with his fellow members, have charge of presenting a redistricting bill. This will involve a great deal of work and a great number of hearings before the committee, after which the bill will be presented for passage.

Senator Haas.
Senator Haas of Delaware is also a member of the federal relations committee, and announces that he will take a special interest in assisting to frame up a congressional district that will be acceptable to the Democracy of Licking county.
The senator's idea is that the changes in the present districts should be as limited as possible and he would favor Delaware county being made a part of the present 17th district, if it can be so arranged.
Senator Haas expresses gratitude and friendship for the Democracy of Licking county in no uncertain terms.

BIGAMY LIMITED BY BILL OFFERED BY LUCAS SOLON

Columbus, Jan. 16.—The Senate judiciary committee today considered a bill limiting and defining bigamy, introduced by Senator Hillenkamp of Lucas county, and then adjourned until Wednesday morning, when Senator Friebohn's bill relative to verdicts in common pleas courts will be taken up.

COX WILL NOT ACCEPT ANY ENGAGEMENTS

Columbus, Jan. 16.—Because of pending legislation before the General Assembly, to which he wishes to devote much time, Governor Cox announced today that he has cancelled all his speaking engagements for the next few weeks. He was to have spoken in Cleveland tomorrow night.

WOULD REVISE PROBATION SENTENCES

Columbus, Jan. 16.—Members of the state board of administration have prepared a tentative emergency bill which probably will be presented to the legislature within the next few days which provides for the building of a state detention institution in this city. Under provisions of the bill probation judges would no longer commit persons to the state industrial schools, but would commit them into the hands of the state board of administration, which would place them in the detention institution until the true state of their deficiency is determined, and then would place them in the proper institutions.

ARSON TRUST LEADER TELLS OF HIS WORK

New York, Jan. 16.—"Izzy the Painter," head of the New York arson trust, came from Sing Sing prison today to confess to putting the torch to 200 houses within the past few months. He unbosomed himself to District Attorney Whitman and two stenographers.
The confession is said to bristle with names of "Izzy's" lieutenants.
Some are said to be notorious characters of the underworld and some insurance workers who worked with the trust and divided the spoils.
Others were adjusters of the big fire insurance companies.

POOR LO NOT TREATED WHITE BY INSPECTORS

Washington, Jan. 16.—Charges of gross frauds against the Indians on the White Earth reservation in Minnesota; that their physical and material condition is pitiful, and that Major James McLaughlin, Indian inspector, did not properly guard the Indians' interests in the allotment of lands, were made to the house today in a report by the committee on expenditures in the interior department. It recommended that some remedy be found by congress for the present situation.

FEAR TYPHOID EPIDEMIC

And All Citizens are Urged to Leave Water Soaked Homes—Organize for Relief Work.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 17.—When on an inspection trip to the flooded Illinois Central incline late last night Superintendent McCabe of the Peoria division, answered a call for help.
McCabe set out in a boat and rescued a man and wife and two little children floating down the river in a wagon box.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 16.—Relief and rescue work among flood sufferers taxed the best efforts of the city administration and the Associated Charities yesterday and today. The city hall was turned into a commissary and piled high with provisions.
City officials closed up shops and sped away in loaded wagons and automobiles to the south end, where distributing stations were opened and food given out.

The mayor's relief fund was exhausted, and council authorized him to spend as much as was needed.
Five hundred people got food from the city yesterday.

The river stands 45.9 feet, a rise of 6 feet in 12 hours. A gentle rain is falling, which will turn to sleet or snow today, the government forecaster says.

The flood water encroached so deeply into both the southeast and west sides of the city yesterday afternoon that 100 more families were affected. In the entire southeast side beyond the city car tracks houses are flooded for a distance of six blocks.
Along the ridge are piled stacks of household furniture unprotected from the rain. The people had to come out so fast that no proper disposition could be made of them or their goods.

In the very heart of the city's new residence section today water poured in through sewer taps and filled cellars to overflowing. The board of health realizes that a grave problem has been created over an area covering 40 blocks, and advises every one to move out where basements are flooded, or else there will be an epidemic of typhoid fever. Hundreds already have moved. The district is being heavily policed to prevent looting.

In the factory district on the west side conditions steadily grow worse.
Temporary clay dams were in most cases broken over by the rise. Factory crews manned all available pumps, but could not beat the flood.
The damage to machinery and material will be heavy if the flood does not recede rapidly.

Over the hundreds of square miles of deeply overflowed lowlands the damage to property continues. Pens of corn which have been partly submerged for three to five days are now swelling at the base, pushing out the lower timbers. Then the pens tumble into the river.

The biggest single loser reported was George Stallings, whose pen of 12,000 bushels of corn fell over on his stock and farm machinery, burying all in the flood. Grain men here admit that the estimate of 1,000,000 bushels of corn lost in the Lower Ohio River Valley is not exaggerating the facts.

To add to the danger on the overcrowded levee at the foot of Main street, the Sycamore street sewer blocking one of the busiest corners, caved in late yesterday afternoon, it cannot be replaced until the flood recedes.

The flood covers two miles of the Pockville and Grandview traction line tracks.

Rescue boats which went out over the flooded lowlands brought in more

REPRIEVE FOR MEN WHO SHOT VIRGINIA JUDGE

Richmond, Va., Jan. 16.—Floyd and Claude Allen, the two Hillsville gunmen sentenced to die tomorrow for their part in the Carroll county court house murders last March, were again reprieved today by Gov-nor Mann.

Governor Mann will later decide the date of the termination of their respite. The governor agreed to hear arguments Feb. 1 in favor of commutation.

Governor Mann later decreed that the Allens should be electrocuted on Friday, March 17, unless otherwise ordered.

"SYRUP OF FIGS" REGULATES STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS

Try this delicious fruit laxative to cleanse your stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels of sour bile, gases, decaying food and clogged-up waste.

If headache, bilious, dizzy, tongue coated, stomach sour and full of gas, you belch undigested food and feel sick and miserable, it means that your liver is choked with sour bile and your thirty feet of bowels are clogged with effete waste matter not properly carried off. Constipation is worse than most folks believe. It means that this waste matter in the thirty feet of bowels decays into poisons, gases and acids and that these poisons are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

Most people dread physic. They think of castor oil, salts and cathartic pills. They shrink from the after effects—so they postpone the dose until they get sick; then they do this liver and bowel cleansing in a heroic

FIRST THINGS

The first divorce court in England was instituted 55 years ago today, Jan. 16, 1856. The jurisdiction of the ecclesiastical authorities respecting divorce was abolished by this act. The divorce and matrimonial court consisted of three judges, and the first body of this kind had as members Lord Campbell, Chief Baron Pollock and Sir Creswell Creswell. At the first sitting five marriages were dissolved, and in the first year of its existence the court granted 38 divorces out of a total of 288 petitions. Up to the time of the establishment of the court there had been in England, since the reformation, 217 divorces granted by acts of parliament. Down to the passing of the divorce act in 1858, the theory of English law in regard to divorce was the same as that of the Roman Catholic church, although in practice this rule was not strictly adhered to, and wealthy and influential persons might, through parliament, secure freedom from gallanting ties. The divorce act provided that the wronged husband could be released from his obligations to an unfaithful spouse, but gave no such recourse to an injured wife, unless the husband's adultery was aggravated by other offenses. Divorce law reforms have recently been widely discussed in England, and a recent report on the subject has been the subject of much comment.

When it is known that its power to strengthen the system and build up the body is why Father John's Medicine cures colds, it will be understood why it is so valuable as a tonic and for driving the impurities out of the system. It feeds the tissues and makes strength; prevents pneumonia and consumption—not a patent medicine; pure and wholesome—50 years in use.

"MENACE TO COUNTRY," SAYS CHICAGO BANKER

Washington, Jan. 16.—That the present concentration of money and credit is a potential "menace to the country" was asserted before the House money trust committee today by George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial National Bank of Chicago. Mr. Reynolds said he knew of the trend toward concentration of money and trusts, and that he thought it a dangerous thing. "I am opposed to the concentration of any sort of power," he said.

Mr. Reynolds added that he was opposed to the principle of interlocking directors in potentially competing concerns and that he had adhered to that principle throughout his banking career.

ELECTIONS IN 1911 WERE VERY COSTLY

Columbus, Jan. 16.—It cost $149,511.16 more to conduct the elections in Ohio in 1911 than it did in 1910, according to a statement compiled by Nelson W. Evans, delegate to the constitutional convention and filed today with the secretary of state. The report shows that in 1911 it cost $892,744.29, against $662,232.14 in 1910.

Has Been Measured for a Cabinet Chair

(Copyright by Harris & Ewing.) It is quite certain that William F. McComb, who married Wilson's campaign, will have his initials cut into a cabinet portfolio. Prior to election day, when the Democratic headquarters were swarmed with work, McComb did not watch the clock or insist on a full hour at lunch time. He has been an indefatigable worker for his party, and it is said that he is willing to accept a cabinet position, although he would be obliged to make a great personal sacrifice to do so.

Banish Those Ugly Pimples

Skin Cleared in a Short Time by Stuart's Calcium Wafers, the Greatest Blood Purifier Known.

Pimples, blotches, skin eruptions of all kinds are simply the impurities of the blood coming to the surface. All the external treatment in the world won't do a particle of good unless you purify the blood. And there's nothing so humiliating as a face that's all "broken out" and spotted.

Clean Your Back and Face of Pimples.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers will clear the most obstinate complexion, because they go right into the blood and remove the cause of the trouble. The blood is cleansed of all impurities and foreign substances and these are quickly eliminated from the system. You'll notice a wonderful change in a few days—you will hardly know yourself in a week.

And Stuart's Calcium Wafers are absolutely harmless to any one. Their ingredients are just what a physician prescribes in most cases of skin eruptions and poor blood. These wafers are put up in a concentrated form, which makes them act quickly and thoroughly.

CLEVELAND AND CINCINNATI IN RACE FOR OFFICE

Washington, Jan. 16.—Customs Collector Louis of New York today conferred with Treasury officials about the reorganization of the customs service, a plan for which will soon be submitted to President Taft by Secretary McVehar for enforcement on July 1st by order of Congress. Senator Pomeroy of Ohio and Representative Gardner of Texas also discussed the reorganization, which will be revolutionary.

The customs districts in Ohio will be reduced to one, with Cleveland probably its headquarters. Cincinnati, however, is clamoring for the office. In West Virginia and several other states there will be one district, or a state will be grouped with another state to comprise a district.

INTERPRETER FOR CASTRO ONCE A NEWARK RESIDENT

Readers of New York dispatches concerning the attempted release of former President Castro of Venezuela from detention at Ellis Island, N. Y., noted the occurrence of the name of Inspector of Immigration George W. Moore as interpreter for Castro. It has been learned that Mr. Moore was a resident of Newark for many years. He is now one of the government's most important employees at the national detention station, and is accorded the examination of all political cases such as that of the Venezuelan turmoil promoter.

Money is the name of the game, but we are never the sure of our destination.

THIS LIQUOR BILL PROVES PUZZLE

Proposed Kenyon Law Stirs Up Washington.

PREDICTING DECISIONS.

Correspondents Knew Men So Well They Usually Can Tell What Way Vote Will Go Before the Roll is Called—Dawes Commission Still in Existence—How to Start Something.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 16.—[Special.]—The Kenyon-Sanders liquor bill was one which everybody was for, but which nobody wanted, and that is why such a muck was stirred up when it accidentally or through an inadvertence or while "Watchdog" Snoot was asleep at the switch received a unanimous consent agreement for a vote. If the bill passes the senate the anti-liquor interests will make a desperate attempt to force it through the house.

The Kenyon liquor bill may be described in the language of one member as "one of them things." It is a bill that men will hesitate to vote against, and yet they do not want it to pass. For twenty years a measure of the same import has been pending under different names. There was the Hepburn-Holliver bill, which hung fire for fifteen years, but never had been allowed to come to a vote. This bill is one which the liquor interests are opposing with might and main, because it will effectively stop the shipment of liquor into prohibition states. More than that, it opens the way for stopping a lot of other shipments.

It Opens a Wide Field.

Just as the supreme court sustained the constitutionality of the anti-lottery law, it will sustain the Kenyon bill. Then the court will have an opportunity in the future to allow congress to regulate child labor made goods, prison made goods and, in fact, to give congress such authority over interstate commerce shipments as to virtually regulate all business. No wonder senators have been shying at and preventing a record vote on this liquor bill.

Always Starts Something.

If any member of congress wants to start something let him reflect upon a state or a community. State and community pride is always on tap for a defense. Jim Mann starts a great many things. In his capacity of minority leader he is in on almost everything, and, besides, he has a great deal of wit and a mighty sharp flow of language. And he likes a row simply for the row's sake. During the consideration of the Indian bill he was scoring the appropriation for Florida Indians and, replying to a remark about their wild condition, said: "The talk about their being wild is all fudge. They have more sense than some of the 'native crackers of Florida.'"

Did he get a rise? Well, one should have heard Frank Clark tear off a few reams of highfalutin, eagle soaring sentences about those Florida Crackers and his state in general. He had some thing to say about the "waving plumes of Osceola," the Seminole who led such a long Indian war. Then he turned loose the floodgates of oratory and quotations from statesmen and heroes to show what great people were inhabitants of the Land of Flowers. Oh, he was "goin' some," that man Clark.

Press Gallery Decisions.

Long before a vote is taken on any big subject the press galleries reach decisions. First they decide the case as they think it should go. Then they estimate the vote in the senate or house or wherever the important question is pending and reason out why one man or another will vote this or that way. And, what is quite true, they know their men pretty well and give a good guess on results.

Goddess or Indian?

Congressman Clark of Florida was addressing the house on a question of personal privilege—that is, he was denouncing some reporter for putting him in bad. In his talk he referred to the bronze statue which surmounts the dome of the capitol as "an Indian." "There is another individual entitled to arise to a question of personal privilege," interjected Cooper of Wisconsin. "That statue which you call an Indian is the statue of the Goddess of Liberty."

"I insist that it is an Indian," declared Clark.

Here the discussion ended for the time with no congressional determination, but the art critics will side with Cooper.

A Lasting Commission.

It has become a truism that a commission which once fastens itself upon the government cannot be jarred loose by anything less than an earthquake. That is about the fact. Some twenty years ago a commission called the Dawes commission was organized to settle the affairs of the Five Civilized Tribes and incidentally to give a place for Henry L. Dawes, who was retiring from the senate. That commission has held on ever since. "There has been a Dawes commission as long as I can remember," declared Jim Mann in the house, "and probably there will be one after I am dead and gone." His prediction is likely to come true, for the commission gives places to quite a number of officeholders.

About the only calling some people do is to call bluffs.

After March 4 there will be a sturdy effort to bring about a change in the management of public affairs. The government will no longer be run in the interest of the interests. There will be, instead, strong endeavor to bring back the ship of State to its old moorings. The interests of the masses will be considered before the interest of the interests. The policy of the Golden Rule will be as far as possible, and as quickly as may be, substituted for the rule of Trusts and special privilege. It is the high mission of the Democratic party to curb the further growth of prevailing privilege and bring back to the whole people the advantage of representative government as instituted and intended by the Fathers at the outset of the Republic.

There was no lack of big business men to hear Governor Wilson's Chicago admonitions. There were railroad presidents and bankers and presidents of big industries and merchant princes. Most of the Chicago railroads were represented. It looks as if the affair had been arranged to afford the president-elect an opportunity to give some wholesome advice in the simplest and most direct way to the men who have a little tighter grip on the country's business than the country fully enjoys.

Democratic State Chairman William L. Finley announced Wednesday that he was standing for 'an equitable distribution of state jobs among the 88 counties, provided efficient men could be found.'

Finley is helping Governor Cox handle the job hunters. Wednesday he surveyed a list given Cox some time ago, showing Governor Harmon had appointed 102 men from 35 counties to the best places at his disposal leaving only minor jobs to the 53 remaining counties. Franklin county has 16 big jobs, while Cuyahoga county, with three the population, has only 6. Hamilton county 10, Lucas county 3, and Montgomery county 6. Small counties where the Democratic organizations were favorable to Harmon, fared best. Butler county has members on both the public utilities and tax commissions at $5,000 a year each. Fairfield county has four big jobs.

The Harmon recess appointments were withdrawn from the senate Tuesday, where they had been sent to be confirmed, to enable Governor Cox to assume full responsibility for all appointments that are made during his administration.

Utterly Wretched
Nervous Prostration Long Endured Remedy was Found.
Miss Minerva Remedy was Upper Bern, Pa. writes: "For several years I had nervous prostration, and was utterly wretched. I lived on bread and beef tea because my stomach would not retain anything else. I took many remedies, but obtained no relief until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I began to gain at once. Am now cured." Pure, rich blood makes good, strong nerves, and this is why Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and enriches the blood, cures all nervous diseases. Get it today in usual liquid form or (saccharated) tablets called Sarsaparilla.

responsibility for all appointments that are made during his administration. "This is my administration and I am held responsible, and I want to know who are the head of important state departments," said the Governor when questioned concerning the action.

While there is no intention to question the integrity of the men affected by the order of withdrawal, as a general rule, one in public authority prefers to be surrounded by subordinates obligated to him for their appointments rather than to have important places in the service filled by men selected by another who has relinquished all his power.

Merit will be the sole test the men involved will have to take with the Governor.

Other governors have complained about the pernicious activities of the lobby which has always infested the halls of the general assembly and has corrupted several, but Governor Cox was the first state executive to frame an anti-lobby bill and have it introduced in the general assembly.

In dealing with the troublesome members of the third house, the governor acted with the promptness and effectiveness of a man in earnest. A stringent anti-lobby measure was introduced in both houses Wednesday. At the governor's suggestion, the rules were suspended and the bills were referred to special committees appointed for the task. These met Wednesday evening, in joint session, heard arguments on the measure and the same evening agreed upon a report which was adopted by the general assembly the following day. As a further evidence of his purpose to free the halls of men who have disgraced past sessions, the governor had his anti-lobby bill introduced as an emergency measure to escape the operation of the Initiative and Referendum constitutional amendment, which forces all newly enacted laws to be held in abeyance 90 days.

Thus in two days Governor Cox obtained one of the most important laws that ever went into the Ohio statutes, and it will reform a vicious element that has been condemned by Governors for many years.

The briskness with which this subject was handled left no cause for any one to even suspect a play to the grandstand had been made as has been the case—and the lobbyists have ample reason to believe that there is a man in the governor's chair who will curtail their privileges.

CIVIL SERVICE BILL PRESENTED

Senator Friebohn Would Classify State Jobs.

MANY ON ANXIOUS SEAT

Would Revolutionize Method of Obtaining Remunerative Positions in State House—Cahill Wants Country Schoolhouses Made Social Centers — Akron Legislator Springs Veiled Single Tax Proposal, Which Has Little Chance of Passage.

Columbus, O., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—The introduction of a civil service bill in the upper house by Senator Friebohn of Cleveland put many hundreds of state employees on the anxious seat. State jobs, judging by the number of applicants that always spring up when there is a vacancy and the insistence with which they buttonhole the appointive powers, are on the preferred list of Ohioans. Heretofore they have been comparatively easy to get, there was no examination of any kind, although the heads of departments are fully questioned applicants as to their ability.

Now, just when the appointees were feeling secure in their comfortable berths with highly remunerative salaries attached, along comes Senator Friebohn to disturb their dreams of security. If the Cleveland solon succeeds in his purpose these appointees will have to hustle all over again for their jobs, only it will be an entirely different kind of hustling. Instead of directing their energies toward getting the endorsement of politicians, they will have to devote their time to study of the duties in the different departments so that they may be capable of giving more efficient service. All who have been in public service for 10 years or more have no cause to be alarmed, for they will not be disturbed. All who have been on the payroll less than that period, however, must take a non-competitive examination, and they will be given a year's time to prepare. Of course all who have entered the public service after participating in a competitive examination are exempted from the provisions of the Friebohn bill.

SENATOR FRIEBOLIN.
Author of Measure to Place State Jobs Under Civil Service.

This measure would extend the civil service to all state employees, and also to those of the counties, cities and city school districts. The whole machinery is to be placed under a civil service commission of three members, who are to be appointed for six years. The members are to receive $2,500 annual salaries, with the exception of the president of the board, who is to devote all his time to his duties and to get an additional $2,500. A secretary, to be selected by the board, will get $4,000 a year.

Employees are to be divided into two classes, the unclassified and classified, the former consisting of the heads of departments, their chief deputies and secretaries, elective officers, members of state commissions, election officials, instructors in public schools, colleges and universities, mayors or other chief appointing power in cities or city school districts and commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the national guard are exempt from civil service.

Senator James P. Seward of Mansfield took a firm stand against the purchasing of expensive seats of the Ohio annotated statutes for members of the general assembly to cart home with them at the end of the session, leaving the commonwealth to foot the bill.

A resolution was introduced in the house providing for the purchase of sets for the members of that body, and Senator Seward was approached by a fellow member and asked whether he would favor a similar resolution should one be offered in the upper branch of the general assembly. He promptly declared he would fight the resolution, and later when been asserted the proposal was offered for the dual purpose of providing business for a law book company and to give the members something valuable in addition to their salaries which are limited to $1,000 a year. The sets of annotated statutes are in seven bound volumes and are sold to lawyers at $5 each, and should the state treasury be drawn upon to provide a set for each legislator the bill would aggregate $4,000. The Mansfield senator said such action would clearly be a violation of the announced economy policy of the general assembly which had been exploited for weeks before the convening of the solons. Only by exercising the same care in handling the state purse that an individual does in dealing with his own funds can the general assembly hope to earn the commendation of the people who put the members in office, says Senator Seward. This, he announced, was to be his policy in considering appropriation measures.

Senator Michael Cahill of Preble county would have all the country schoolhouses thrown open one night each week for entertainments for the country boys and girls, and if the state has any authority to force such action he will introduce the necessary measure. In discussing the proposed measure, Senator Cahill said:

"For years we have watched with growing concern the increasing migration from the farms to the cities," said Senator Cahill, "yet nothing has been done to correct the condition which causes the country lads and lassies to leave their homes."

"The migration is caused because there is no social side to the life of the country boys and girls. One can not take away from the young people all forms of entertainments and expect them to be contented. The young people of the country have the same banking for the pleasures of life that those of the cities have, and when they can not brighten their lives with social functions they go to the cities where there are plenty of diversions. Give the country boys and girls the opportunities that the city young people have and we would no longer have cause to complain about the depopulation of the farms."

The single tax question bobbed up in the senate, notwithstanding that the members of the constitutional convention, after hearing from the people back home, decided that the commonwealth was not ready for it. Senator Potting of Akron hauled forth that troublesome question when he introduced a joint resolution providing for the submission of a constitutional amendment to permit home rule in the matter of taxation. The measure relates to municipalities and it would give the people of those corporations power to classify property for taxation, something which the constitution now forbids, and it would also confer authority on the municipalities the power to exempt from taxation all property so classified.

While Senator Potting asserts the adoption of such an amendment would not mean single tax, yet it is the identical plan that has been urged everywhere by single taxers to accomplish their purpose. A kindred rule with reference to taxable property exists in Washington and Oregon, where the county, instead of the municipality as proposed, is the unit for determining the measure of home rule in taxation affairs.

Special elections on this subject have kept the people of both states in a continual turmoil and they have had enough of it. The mere adoption of this resolution, solons realize, would bring down on their heads wholesale criticisms by agriculturists, notwithstanding the resolution would not change the system of taxing property as desired. Affirmative action on the proposed constitutional amendment at the polls would be necessary to accomplish the desired result.

Several solons assert they do not wish to arouse the suspicions of the farmers as to their position on single tax by advertising such a resolution, and it will undoubtedly be voted down. Considerable criticism was directed at the author of the measure for offering it at this time.

To enable Governor Cox to make a clean start with reference to appointments, all recess selections which had been made by ex-Governor Harmon and sent to the senate for confirmation were withdrawn by the members of that body. Most of these appointments had been pending for several months, and as the new governor must shoulder the responsibility for the men who will act for him in the different departments he wanted to conduct his own investigation as to the work done by each man named by the ex-governor. All of the recess appointments were to men who had been associated with Mr. Harmon.

The withdrawal did not mean the first step had been taken to decapitate men who had been loyal to Mr. Harmon in the days when the latter was aspiring for the seat in the White House as executive of the nation, nor did it signify that all those effected had been rejected.

The principal appointments with drawn were those of State Highway Commissioner James R. Marker, State Oil Inspector Benjamin F. McKinney, State Printer E. A. Crawford, State Fire Marshal John W. Zuber and Bank Superintendent F. E. Brater. Three others for minor places were also sent back to the executive office for further consideration.

YOU ARE PROTECTED BY MANUFACTURERS.
There are two kinds of manufacturers. The honest and the dishonest—the man who makes the best and the man who makes something inferior. One aims to build up a host of customers by advertising a worthy product at an honest price and the other hoodwinks the unwary by offering "something just as good" at a tempting price. One takes you into his confidence and deals with you in the open. The other stoops to underhand practices, misrepresentation, and unfair business methods. Manufacturers who advertise in THE ADVOCATE are among those who protect you from the unscrupulous. The fact that they advertise proves that they have nothing to hide. Read the advertisements in THE ADVOCATE closely and constantly every day. Get acquainted with the manufacturers who protect you from "just as good" products by identifying their goods with distinctive brands, packages and names. # MUNICIPAL LEAGUE MEETS NEXT WEEK IN COLUMBUS

Gov. Cox, Mayor Baker, Mayor Whitlock, Mayor Hunt and Others Are To Speak.

Plans are completed for the annual meeting of the Ohio Municipal League in Columbus next Wednesday and Thursday, January 22 and 23. Three sessions will be held. Sixty-seven cities and villages have already named delegates. Mayor Feiler, secretary of the league, predicts that there will be between 300 and 400 delegates present.

Governor Cox and the mayors of the three largest cities will address the conference during its sessions. Mayor Baker of Cleveland, is president of the league. Mayor Hunt of Cincinnati will speak on "Municipal Finance and the Smith 1 per cent Tax Law." Mayor Brand Whitlock of Toledo will discuss some of the impressions which he received from his recent visit to European cities.

The chief interest will center about the proposed forms of charters, framed by a committee consisting of Walter L. Flory, Prof. A. R. Hutton, Mayor Newton D. Baker, W. A. Greenlund, D. S. Morgan, H. M. Roberts and S. S. Stillwell, which were sent out today.

MORE LAWS

Wax says a law we ought to have, requiring this, compelling that: he thinks a law's the only salve for every grief beneath his hat. If some old lean rambunctious mule reached out and kicked him on the jaw, he'd say the people ought to rule, and that there ought to be a law. His house is standing by the creek, and every spring the floods come down, and drive him from it pretty quick, and strew his garden through the town. He never thinks to move his shack away from that wild river's maw; he views the wreck and cried alack, and says there ought to be a law. He takes things easy day by day, when prudent men around him toll, a-herding geese or cutting hay or playing thunder with the soil; he hates to see those toilers eat their turkeys while he feeds on slaw; he loafs along the busy street and says there ought to be a law. When wintry tempests boom and howl, his wiser neighbors sit at ease, and eat their pies and roasted fowl, and shredded eggs and scrambled cheese; they rest at night in leather beds, while Wax lies on his mouldy straw, and there the futile year he sheds, and says there ought to be a law. Oh, brethren, we have laws enough, and we have ordinances to burn! Get out and hustle—that's the stuff, and put in brine the seeds you earn!

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

By O. T. Ervance.

FORBES-ROBERTSON, ACTOR, SEATED FOR KNIGHTHOOD, IS 60.

Johnston Forbes-Robertson, the perennially delightful English actor whose dramatic achievements, it is said, are soon to win the recognition of knighthood, will celebrate his sixtieth birthday today. If additional proof is needed of the fallacy of the statement that the man of three-score years has outlived his usefulness, Forbes-Robertson is living proof.

The earliest ambition of the eminent thespian was to become a painter. His father, John Forbes-Robertson, journalist and art critic, encouraged this predilection, and Johnston was enabled to study painting under the masters of France and Germany, and later was a student at the Royal Academy School of Art in London. Arrived at manhood's estate, however, Forbes-Robertson turned to the stage, and at twenty-one made his debut as Chasteland in "Mary Stuart," at the Princess Theatre in London. A little later he was in Manchester, playing Shakespearean roles, and in 1861 he was back in London, supporting the great Modjeska. In 1885 he made his first American tour with Mary Anderson, and remained with that gifted actress when she returned to London for a Shakespearean season at the Lyceum. Forbes-Robertson's artistic training was not thrown away, for the costumes and stage setting he designed for "The Winter's Tale" will little short of perfect.

In the early '90's the actor made another tour of America, and later played Buckingham to Irving's Henry VIII. He secured possession of the Lyceum in London, in 1896, and under his own management, made the great triumph of his career as Hamlet. He also played with Mrs. Patrick Campbell in several productions. He made another tour of America in 1906, in a Shaw comedy. In 1909 he married Gertrude Elliott, an American actress, sister of Maxine Elliott. Golf and painting are the celebrated actor's chief diversions. He has produced a number of notable paintings, and might have won high place had he remained true to the art that was his first love. George V. Hobart, the actor of "Dinkelspiel," was born at Cape Breton, in Nova Scotia, forty-six years ago today. He commenced his newspaper career as editor of the Sunday Scimitar of Cumberland, Md. A year later he went to Baltimore and was employed as a humorous writer by the Herald, American and News "Dinkelspiel," who has recently had a triumphant revival on the New York stage, appeared first in the columns of the Baltimore News. The homely and humorous characters depicted by Mr. Hobart made an immediate appeal, and when transferred to the vaudeville stage, evoked storms of laughter. While Mr. Hobart's fame rests principally on "Dinkelspiel," his name also appears on the title pages of a score of humorous books that have been widely read. The first, and perhaps the most popular, of these was "John Henry," published a dozen years ago. It was followed by "Down the Line," "Out for the Coin," "I'm From Missouri," "You Can Search Me," "Beat It," and other volumes with slangy titles. "Mrs. Black is Back," written for May Irwin, was one of the great hits of that plump provocateur of mirth. The Hobart plays include "Broadway to Tokio," "Sally in Our Alley," and the burlesque of "The Merry Widow."

HAIR STOPS FALLING, DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Save your Hair! Beautify it! Invigorate your scalp! Danderine grows hair and we can prove it.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine now will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove to yourself tonight—now—that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED BY ADVENTISTS

(Communicated.)
The meeting at the local Seventh-day Adventist church last night resolved itself into what might be termed a mass meeting, when resolutions were passed remonstrating against the proposed Sunday legislation now before the United States Senate in Congress in Washington, D. C. The resolutions were brought before the congregation by the pastor, H. A. Weaver, and were passed unanimously. They read as follows:

Whereas, the Johnston Sunday bill, now pending in the Senate of the United States, is religious in its character, in that it is designed to foster the religious observance of Sunday, and, Whereas, the exemption clause attached to one of the sections of this bill indicates most clearly its religious character, by exempting from the application of this section those who belong to a religious society which observes some other day of the week than Sunday as a Sabbath, and, Whereas, religious legislation is contrary both to the spirit and letter of the Constitution of the United States and if carried to its logical conclusion means a union of church and state, and the persecution of dissenters, therefore,

Resolved, that we respectfully, but earnestly, remonstrate against the passage of this bill, or any other bill requiring the observance of Sunday as a day of rest which may come before the Senate.

Similar resolutions were passed in every one of the 2,000 Seventh-day Adventist churches in the United States, thus showing that about 70,000 members of this denomination alone are strongly opposed to any kind of Sunday legislation.

Mr. Weaver said the reason Seventh-day Adventists are so vigorously opposed to the Johnston Sunday bill in Congress is because its passage would be the first step towards a union of church and state, which would ultimately bring persecution upon dissenters. It was stated that not only at Seventh-day Adventists opposed to Sunday legislation, but also thousands of others who love religious liberty.

In giving further reasons why this denomination is opposed to Sunday legislation, Mr. Weaver said: "Our people have stood for the entire separation of church and state, and have earnestly opposed all attempts at religious legislation. Sunday laws, we believe to be religious laws. Therefore, we are uncompromisingly opposed to all legislation in behalf of Sunday observance. Sunday is a religious institution; its observance is a religious act; a law enforcing that observance is a religious law. Therefore we believe it should not exist in this country. We would be uncompromisingly opposed to any legislation for the enforcement of the seventh day of the week. The Sabbath is a religious institution, and its observance is a religious act, and from our standpoint it would be entirely wrong for the state to attempt any legislation for the observance of the seventh day of the week. The same way be said regarding baptism, prayer, church attendance or anything else pertaining to religion. We believe that Christ, the founder of the church, taught the complete separation of the church from the state; and this, we believe, should be the attitude of his professed followers.

Now as to our attitude toward a law to close the saloons on Sunday: It is well known by all who know anything about Adventists that they are determinedly opposed to the saloon on all days of the week. We believe that they are a menace to the welfare of the state, and are unevitable, to say nothing of being irreligious, and should not be permitted to carry on their destructive work against society. Civil laws could be enacted and enforced bringing the saloon into subjection to the requirements of society, but religious laws never. Therefore we join heartily in every movement to secure laws for closing the saloons entirely.

H. A. WEAVER.

I tried remedies after remedies, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and I have never returned. I have given it to a number who were afflicted with rheumatism and even bedridden with rheumatism and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer, from any form of rheumatic trouble, to try this marvelous pain power. I send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. Friendly Peggy And the Goat Nannie Goat

"Oh, you little darling," she cried.

ADDY laid down his book with a sigh. "I wonder what you would do if you met a cross looking goat?" he said to Jack and Evelyn.

"Peggy had started to a new school. Every morning she passed some empty lots where nice grass grew and there were two or three big rocks.

"Back of the lots were a couple of little one story houses.

"And one morning when Peggy passed the lots there was a handsome goat climbing around over the rocks.

"Peggy told her brother about the goat. Tom said, 'You want to watch out that the goat doesn't butt you with its horns.'

"This goat doesn't have any horns," Peggy said.

"Oh," replied Tom, "maybe it hasn't grown them yet! The way to find out if it is a cross goat is to say to it, 'Billy, Billy, will you butt?'

"So the next time Peggy passed the goat she said very softly, 'Billy, Billy, will you butt?'

"The goat went right on chewing the clump of grass with which it was busy, so Peggy made up her mind that this was a perfectly safe goat.

"For more than a week the goat was missing. Then one morning she saw it again in the lots with the dearest little kid.

"Oh, you little darling!" she cried, wishing to pat the kid on the head.

"M-a-a-a!" the baby goat cried.

"G-r-r-r!" the mamma goat said.

"This meant 'get out,' but Peggy did not understand, and she stepped nearer to the kid.

"Down went Mamma Goat's head, and straight for Peggy she went. The goat might have caught up with her, for Peggy was too frightened to run very fast, but Mrs. Flaherty, who was doing some washing, happened to look out of her window in one of the one story houses back of the lots. She picked up her broom. In a minute she was driving off the goat.

"Oh, it's your goat, is it, Mrs. Flaherty?" cried Peggy. Mrs. Flaherty came to the weekly wash at Peggy's house.

"Sure, an' it is!" Mrs. Flaherty replied as she came panting up with the broom.

"Tom said if I called 'Billy, Billy, will you butt?' at the goat and it didn't hurt me it was a tame goat, so I wasn't afraid of this one any more," Peggy explained.

"Dearie me, child," cried Mrs. Flaherty, "this isn't that kind of a goat. This is a nannie, and nannie goats is always cross when they has young ones."
